WE NOMINATE

George Edward Pendray, a long-time advocate of the use of rocket power for scientific and commerical goals and one of this country's most respected public relations counsels, whose life's work was capped this week with the publication of the 3-volume "Papers of Robert H. Goddard," the major pioneer in the development of ideas and instruments making rocketry and space travel possible. This relative newcomer to the Princeton scene, age 69 and a member of the growing intellectual galaxy of near-by Rossmoor Village in Jamesburg, is responsible, in collaboration with the scientist's widow, for a chronicle meriting "a high place in the literature of the human imagination at its most creative" and, on the basis of favorable reviews, already a strong contender for major literary honors in the highly competitive field of American biography.

Where the normal, or traditional, trajectory in American public life has been the single-track public career, this native of Omaha, Neb., a graduate of the University of Wyoming, has been a creative scientist-engineer as well as a high public relations adviser to well over 100 corporations and organizations over the past quarter-century. It is indicative that Pendray, at "an age most want to retire," is a consultant to both the Harry Frank and Guggenheim foundations.

Some two years ago, as he transferred his base of operations from New York City and Bronxville, N.Y., to Princeton, Pendray gave to the Princeton University Library an unusual collection of materials chronicling this country's emergence into the space age. Without a doubt, according to University Librarian William S. Dix, "the space and rocketry materials in the Pendray collection will provide scholars with a rare, candid glimpse into the difficult, early days of rocket research and development – especially in the 1920's, thirties and forties, before the field acquired its wide public governmental acceptance." We are also especially happy, Dix went on to say, "to be able to add Dr. Pendray's remarkable public relations papers to the University's already substantial holdings in this area."

Pendray, whose Manhattan apartment served as the launching-pad for the American Interplanetary Society that eventually became the American Rocket Society and, in 1963, part of the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics, started out as a cub reporter in Laramie, Wyo., and eventually rose to executive positions with the late New York Herald Tribune. He was the first public relations officer of Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, a charter member and founding officer of the Public Relations Society of America and for four years Science Editor of the ill-fated Literary Digest.

The Pendray Papers in the Princeton Library, where Pendray works regularly, include a complete series of the journals and publications detailing much of the research on rocketry in this country and abroad to 1963, personal correspondence between Pendray and Dr. Goddard and others, a motion picture account of one of the American Rocket Society's early experimental attempts (a 1933 rocket launching on a Staten Island beach) and a copy of a rare 17th century classic. To these items have now been added Pendray's copy of the manuscript, representing some 13 years of work, of the "Goddard Papers."

For making known belatedly the personality and strengths of this incredible shaper of our times, Robert H. Goddard; for his achievements in the ever-perplexing field of public relations; for his evaluations of what past and present must mean to the future; he is our nominee as

NO TO THE TOWER

Planning Board Votes 5-4. The Regional Planning Board Tuesday night presented a lengthy and detailed "majority" report outlining why the Tower at Princeton should be approved, unexpectedly voted 5-4 against it, and after a 30 minute recess, returned to adopt a report disapproving the controversial 11 story structure by the same one vote margin.

The unforeseen turn in events, coming after several hours of executive sessions, including one which delayed the start of the meeting, indicated the uncertainty of the fate of the Tower and the indecision in the minds of some board members right up to the final public vote.

Chairman Hans K. Sander began the meeting by reading what the board at first expected to be the majority report approving the Tower for numerous reasons. However, a roll call vote of the nine members attending produced only four affirmative votes, cast by Robert W. Cawley, William H. Walker, II, Joseph R. Nini, and William T. Sutphin.

Those voting against approval were James E. Andrews, James A. Floyd, Arthur P. Morgan, Bryan V. Moore and Mr. Sander. Borough and Township members split evenly in their voting.

"Minority" Report Wins. This left the question hanging since none of those voting against the Tower would introduce a motion to have it disapproved. However, the Board's attorney, William Mercer, reminded members that lack of positive action by the board would constitute tacit approval after 90 days.

After the recess, what had once been drawn up as the minority report against the Tower by Messrs. Moore Morgan and Sander, was adopted with some changes. The alignment of members in the second vote was the same.

In rejecting the Tower, designed to arise on Mt. Lucas Road, the Planning Board pointed out that it was not criticizing the architecture of the project. "Given the large size of the lot and the liberal zoning regulations in existence for the Service Zone, we believe the site plan evidences considerable restraint and good taste, because if 12 acres are to be developed for commercial purposes, we feel it is preferable to go up in the air rather than cover the maximum allowable lot with one or two-story buildings," the report stated.

The report emphasized that a project the size of the Tower raises questions of proper land use, sub-surface drainage, flood control, traffic parking, utilities and sewerage, which are the function of the board to examine.

Blacktop a Villain. In these matters, it did not agree with the findings and recommendations of the Site Plan Review Board, citing two objections. First, a drainage problem already exists in the area and the addition of more blacktop will make matters worse. Although the builders have said facilities will be provided to contain water and snow runoff, no factual studies have been made of what is really required to accomplish this, the report stated.

Another major reservation in the report was over the traffic problems, which would be created by the 594 cars expected to use the building.

At the end of the meeting Richard W. Hoisington, a partner in the firm of Collins, Uhl and Hoisington, which hopes to build the Tower, commented that the board's reasons were "contrived and emotional." "It's a case of discrimination," he added.

Mr. Hoisington said his firm would appeal the decision to Township Committee, and will discuss whether legal action will be taken if Committee upholds the board's ruling.

Two members favoring the Tower, Mr. Walker and Mr. Sutphin, both pointed out that the structure complied with all the requirements of the ordinances presently in effect and thus should be approved.

Voting against the Tower Mr. Floyd pointed out the traffic problems and the antiquity of the present ordinance. Mr. Andrews commented that the traffic problem also bothered him, but emphasized that he approved of towers and would vote for one if there was a clear highway around it.

Bogus $10 Bills Passed

Two counterfeit $10 bills were passed last week in stores in the Princeton Shopping Center.

Township police report that a suspect has been arrested by the Pennsylvania State Police. They identified him as Ralph Hinrichs of Phoenixville, Pa. At the time of his arrest Friday, he had $75,000 in bogus bills in his possession.

Township Detective Samuel Bianco reported that Hinrichs also has a Hights town address.

Education and Schools." It was blocked out by Everett P. Garretson, who spearheaded opposition last spring to the Middle School's proposal to substitute teacher comments for grades.

CARES was started by Robert L. Cronin, 29 Leabrook Lane. Other founding members are John C. Yeoman who is treasurer, Richard Magee who has been serving as chairman of the Wednesday evening "Ad Hoc" meetings on the schools, and Richard D. Challener.

"We are not an anti this or anti that group," Mr. Yeoman explains. "We are not a conservative group or a radical group. I would say we are concerned and worried and not satisfied that everything is being done in the schools that can be done."

Mr. Yeoman adds that, "We are not an anti McPherson group, and we have taken no stand on Superintendent Mc Pherson."

Many Are Opposed. But members have many view points and Mr. Garretson indicated that most people interested in the organization are opposed to Dr. McPherson.

CARES, however, is not behind the new bumper-stickers that have appeared in Princeton reading "Domp McPherson." Mr. Yeoman stated:

"Our goal is to attract good candidates who will run as a team in February." Mr. Yeoman explains. "We don't want several people with the same ideas who could split up the votes."

Founding members of CARES have been holding coffee hours around town in the last two weeks, he reports. School board members have attended some but Mr. Yeoman declined to say which school board members they were.

CARES hopes to have its organization off and running by the time school opens in September.

"Statement of Concern" Mailed. A "Statement of Public Concern" has been mailed to all the people who signed various petitions this spring, Mr. Garretson says.

"The school board's precarious tuation and vacillation have been all too evident in recent months," the statement charges. "Neither the Superintendent of Schools nor the Board, as presently constituted, is responsive to the many concerned citizens who have showed interest, attended public meetings or signed petitions on many issues. Even more serious are growing indications of differences of opinion both within the board and between the Superintendent and the Board."

"We desire to form a broadly based coalition of responsible Princeton citizens to provide an effective avenue for bringing our concerns and suggestions before the community, the Board and the administration."

Issues, as noted in the statement and commented upon by Mr. Yeoman and Mr. Garretson, are these:

The Wednesday Program: students should be involved; teachers should be involved to a fuller extent than CARES believes they now are.

Princeton High School's vocational program: it should be reviewed. "The program has been declining in enrollment year by year in the face of a steadily mounting need for additional young people prepared for careers in service industries."

Grading at the Middle School: "The question of grades at the Middle School is an example of the less than satisfactory leadership of the Superintendent and of the Board," says Mr. Garretson.

Turning to past events, the statement cites "The handling of the high school strike, (and) the decision involving the long overdue appointment of Miss Burke as high school principal" as examples of the "state of crisis" in school leadership.

"We need a Board in firm control, whose members understand what the desires of the community in regard to education are," Mr. Garretson comments.

"Princeton is happy and willing and eager to pay for a first rate school system," he continues, "though we may feel that in past budgets, too many dollars were not being used effectively."

The statement says "Princeton taxpayers . . . have every right to be assured that each new program or expenditure is carefully scrutinized for its need, effectiveness and reasonable cost. Existing programs must be reviewed and evaluated in a more professional manner to determine if they have achieved their expected results, before they are continued."

LOST: HALF A MILLION

As Sending Districts Leave. Princeton's schools will lose over half a million dollars in about two years when the 500 students in sending districts pull out of Princeton High, warned William K. Selden Tuesday night as he reported to the Princeton School Board on the progress of long range planning.

Mr. Selden is chairman of the citizens' group that is doing long-range thinking for the schools. He pointed out that, while people are vaguely aware that sending-district students will leave to enter the new West Windsor-Plainsboro high school, Princeton residents have not yet realized the financial impact of the departure.

"We'll need to re order our priorities to reduce costs and yet create a living curriculum at Princeton High," Mr. Selden stated.

Asked by board member Winthrop Pike whether the citizens group had examined methods of financing public schools, Mr. Selden said not yet.

Stability Needed. He told the board and the audience of about 60 in the auditorium of John Witherspoon School that Princeton needed more stability in its schools and more opportunity for creativity.

When Mrs. Loren Johnston asked his definition of stability, Mr. Selden said, "I don't mean 'no change'. I mean reduction in threats; a chance to accept differences and to feel free to talk without threat."

The Selden committee will hold open public meetings this fall after an interim report in late September.

The school board itself still plans executive meetings that are open or "mini-open," in the words of William Marvel, acting board president. Details will be announced, but probably meetings will be held on Tuesday. Personal matters, grievances or contract negotiations will not be open.

SUCCEED (School-University-Community-Cooperative Education-Program), a joint endeavor by Princeton High, Princeton University and several townspeople, will start on a small scale this September, and fully in the second semester after Princeton University receives some expected Federal money.

The program is designed to help 50 high school students "enhance their self-image through discovery of talents and skills" in a setting outside the classroom.

The chosen 50 will spend mornings in required classes and then will go to the Princeton Youth Center to meet with a group of 12 trained University students—10 men and two women—and three members of the high school faculty.

In the afternoon at the Center, they will have "academic exploration" in any two of three areas: language, humanities, math-science. Time will be scheduled loosely to allow subject-matter discussions or rap sessions for groups of various size.

Evans in Charge. Don Evans, PHS teacher and director of the Youth Center, will direct SUCCEED, assisted by Joseph Moore, assistant dean at Princeton University and a resident of Princeton for many years.

Describing the program, PHS principal Florence Burke told the audience it had its genesis last spring when Mr. Moore told her he had University undergraduates who wanted to work with high school kids.

Until the University's grant is assured, these undergraduates will come to the high school as volunteers. The Federal grant will be used to pay the schools for the three high-school teachers who will be released half-time.

"The program will be quite informal," Miss Burke explained, "we hope it will develop some new methods of motivating kids and turning them on."

How We Learn. The board unanimously approved a new high school course, Workshop on Learning, developed by Mrs. Liane Cahn, a Princeton resident. As outlined by Frank Soda, dean of the PHS faculty, it's designed to make junior and senior students more aware of the learning process—and maybe to turn some of them to teaching.

Contract agreements on supervisory work and extra-pay for extra services were left open when the teachers' contracts were negotiated.

Both areas have now been agreed on. Factors that determine extra pay were re negotiated, Middle School intramur-

Lightning Hits Two Homes

Lightning bolts during last Wednesday's electrical storm, described as the worst here in four years, struck two homes in Princeton.

At 5:05 p.m., a bolt struck a rain gutter in the rear of the house of James Green, 688 Ewing Street, starting a minor fire in the attic. At 5:45, another bolt hit a TV antenna at the home of Vincent Stefaueli, 14 Carnahan Place. The charge traveled downward burning the interior and exterior walls of a room in the back. It also destroyed curtains and knocked out a window, causing an estimated $500 in damage.

A thunderstorm monitor in New Brunswick revealed that 3,737 bolts struck the ground in central New Jersey between 3:30 and 5:30. A normal thunderstorm produces 50 to 150 bolts, a severe storm some 1500.

als have been strengthened, high school intramurals given "an improved defanition and focus" and other adjustments made, the board said.

Unsalaried posts of advisor to Lay Correctors (Middle School composition program) and the k 8 Mathematics and Science co ordinators will now be paid.

Contracts with the administrators and the custodians still aren't completed.

The board unanimously approved three special one year appointments. Joachim Parrella will lead the Wednesday Program, succeeding Mr. Elaine Solomon; Mrs. Ruth Randall will co ordinate the new Aide Program (see elsewhere, "Topics of the Town") and Donald Blankenbush will join the staff of Princeton University's Internship program as Administrative Assistant in the Office of Teacher Preparation. This is the office headed by Henry Drewry.

Douglas Coulter, PHS social studies head, reported on three weeks he spent in Scotland with 24 PHS students in an English Speaking Union exchange program. Twenty five Scottish students lived in Princeton for three weeks this spring. The board agreed to explore ways Princeton students might get financial help for next year's exchange.

GYM IN A BUBBLE

For Middle School. An air inflated bubble 99 x 148 feet will be blown up this fall next to the Community Park gym to serve as auxiliary gymnasium and meeting space for the Princeton Middle School.

The bubble, which is twice as big as the present two Middle School gymnasiums combined, will be leased for $60,000 to be divided over the next five years.

Cost includes erection of the "building" on the site, heating and lighting units and the rental. It will be erected by Air Tech Industries, Inc., of Clifton, N. J., a subsidiary of Walter Kidde Company.

School officials point out that in the past, as many as 102 children have been assigned to a class originally planned for 35 or 40. The bubble is regarded as the cheapest way to meet the need for more space. It can be moved somewhere else at any time.

The school board voted unanimously Tuesday night to lease the bubble, financing its first year cost of $29,900 by taking $10,000 from the reserve fund and picking up the rest in various accounts. "But we did not cut back on education," assured William Marvel, acting board president.

Board member Winthrop Pike said the cost was about "$5 or $6 a square foot which is extremely low at today's building prices."

A covered area will connect the bubble gym to the Community Park building so students won't have to go outside in bad weather. The building will be raised over a smooth green hardtop, and the whole inside will be colored green up to a 12 foot height, to make a better backdrop.

The bubble is made of random weave daeron polyester flame resistant and self-extinguishing. It is sustained entirely by the air pressure inside and has no structural support. It can't collapse because the air pressure system is backed up by an automatic system which starts immediately by itself if the air pressure inside the building drops below its normal level.

Mr. Pike assured the audience at the school board meeting that bubbles don't collapse (if they lose air, it's very slowly over a period of hours). A rip in the fabric can't go on for long because of the nature of the weave and the fabric can be patched.

Vandalism? The bubble will be surrounded by the building on two sides and by the Community Park fence on the other. Mr. Pike estimated that the bubble would be in use about five years. It's a good direction to take in solving space problems; it means we won't be left with a white elephant in the wrong place if the uses of the Middle School buildings change.

In winter, the bubble is heated by its own thermostatically controlled hot air heating system.

The bubble has been used as a sportstructure by many preschools and colleges throughout the country, even as far north as Alaska. This is the first time it has been used by a public school in New Jersey.

Middle School students have long wanted a broader program of intramural activities, and with all the new bubble space, such an expanded program will become feasible, school officials say.

Programs will be expanded in wrestling, volleyball, lonbbling, modern dance and gymnastics and also in the so call-

WORK IS ON SCHEDULE

For Inn Renovation. Work to change the Princeton Inn and its annex into a coeducational dormitory is proceeding on schedule and the facility is expected to be ready for occupancy by some 320 students (210 men and 110 women) this fall with the opening of Princeton University's 225th year.

At the same time, additional details of plans for a new three-unit dormitory complex to adjoin the Inn were revealed. When completed, the new grouping will provide facilities for an additional 150 men and women in a courtyard complex which will join both the present Inn and the annex.. Plans call for breaking ground in the near future so that the addition will be ready for occupancy in the fall of 1971.

In preparation for the arrival painting, refurbishing and general renovation work are well underway, according to Jon D. Hlafter, Director of the University's office of Physical Planning.

The extensive renovations of the two story brick and concrete block annex include painting, new furniture, carpeting and remodeling to provide two kitchenettes and two common study areas. The building, housing 76 students in eight single and 34 double rooms, will also have a basement activity room.

Major renovation in the main building mainly involves the former public areas. Little work is needed in the hotel guest rooms which will, by and large, retain existing furniture or receive standard University dormitory furniture.

Recreation Rooms. The spacious basement meeting rooms are being converted into a library, (comparable to the present Julian Street Library in Wilcox Hall which houses some 10,000 volumes) and to common-study areas. There will also be an activities room convertible to a workshop-theater, a coin-operated student laundry, a music listening area and a game room with ping-pong and pool tables.

The former manager's office suite is being renovated to provide an apartment for the senior tutors, Dr. and Mrs. John McC. Darley, of the Department of Psychology. Dr. Albert Sonnenfeld, Professor of French Literature and Master of Princeton Inn College, will reside with his family at 99 Alexander Street just north of the Inn.

The lobby and large lounge on the first floor are being refurnished. The former cocktail lounge is becoming a multi-function room, while a coffee shop will be opened in the area formerly occupied by one of the Inn's dining rooms. The main dining area however, will remain intact. There will also be office space for Prof. Sonnenfeld, for the facility's manager, and for the student governing unit.

Lounges are being installed on the second and third floors, and a resident couple's apartment will be included on the second floor. Additional work to meet building code requirements, including fire escapes, is also being completed this summer.

Cost. The three-unit addition to the Inn will be built at a total project cost of between $1.2 and $1.4 million, according to Mr. Hlafter, who said that the architectural style would complement that of the present Inn. The addition will be of brick construction, with standing-seam metal mansard roofs.

John P. Moran, General Manager of Planning, Plant and Properties, explained that the addition is required by the fall of 1971 "to compensate for the loss of 138 spaces in 93-year-old Witherspoon Hall," Princeton's oldest campus dormitory.

The addition will include a three-story unit fronting on Alexander Street, a four-story unit fronting on the golf course, and a second four-story unit joining the two and attaching them to the present main Inn building on the first floor level by a covered patio. The three units, together with the annex to which they also will be joined, will form a small courtyard to the south of the main Inn.

. . . A HOT TIME

With Incinerator Problems. Princeton has asked the state for 90 days more time to get things cleared up at the incinerator. This would mean November 5.

The Leckenby company, which made the balky scrubbers, hopes by mid-week to have completed its latest round of work at the incinerator, according to Donald T. Harney, Borough engineer who is secretary of the Joint Sewer Operating Committee.

Leckenby has designed a new opening into the scrubber to improve the burning, Mr. Harney said. It was air-freighted from Seattle and has

IS THE MOST MOVING, MOST INTELLIGENT, THE MOST HUMANE — OH, TO HELL WITH IT! — IT'S THE BEST AMERICAN FILM I'VE SEEN THIS YEAR!
It comes as close to being an epic human comedy as Hollywood has ever made! Alan Arkin as Yossarian provides the film with its continuity and dominant style. "Misalliance": Experience of Rare Delights

A reviewer (or am I a critic?) with nothing new to say at the end of a season may somehow have neglected his creative responsibilities, shot his bolt early.

He (I) should be an inventor of new encomiums, more illuminating accolades. He should be able to compare, say this or that was done well, unevenly, or badly.

He should say, "Rush to it!" or "Stay away!" with an informed taste (Shouldn't he?). Jaded and spoiled by this fine group, I can do none of these.

I simply refer the reader to earlier commentaries full of praise for Theatre Intime. If you haven't saved back issues of TOWN TOPICS for such reference, here is a summary: This group pleases the eye, ear and mind. It is a human and intelligent set of players who cause connections, intimacies and friendships between the stage and the witness.

Last Chance. Bernard Shaw's "Misalliance" is the final chance for audiences to see this acting in action, and I urge a convergence of the enlightened to reserved seats at Murray Theatre for August 13, 14 and 15, when this season ends. My paltry notes give me few specifics to tell those who read these little essays, but my senses tell me that the play is as close as you may ever come to seeing a British intellectual circus if that exists! — where a totally fabricated tent houses intellectual acrobatics, balancing acts of wit and language and an illuminated center ring where people ride ideas as though they were spangled horses.

The ringmaster, of course, is Bernard Shaw, and his style here engages the situational misalliances that are perhaps the facts of this century's social wreckage: wrinkled age admiring beautiful youth, the effete aristocracy accommodating the churlish middle class, the visionary versus the vital, the free challenging the repressed. A circus it is. And engaging they are, though this is ultimately a talky, idea-ridden show.

It is clearly an experience of rare delights: imagine ideas dressed as people in a world that is pure imagination just as everyone we know dresses his idea of himself in his own particular clown suit every day. This is one of the purer pleasures of theatre.

A New Experience. With much thanks, it is to be noted that Intime has made another shift into a distinguished and different way of playing from those excellent ways we've seen before during this Summer. Lots of these experiences are hokey, broadly physical. Lots more are crystal attitudes, played so well that we see them held up to light and transparent in all their reality, foolish at last.

There isn't much darkness here, if there is any. But there is much bright intellect and sensible style evident in the actor's art, as we have learned to expect.

The company — the maturing sense of actor's presence in Andrew Bloch; the precision and style of Daniel Berkowitz; Deborah Savadge's ability to elevate desire beautifully; Alice White's strong, clear-sighted womanliness; the power and largeness of William Hootkin's vocal and physical dominance, leavened by innuendo, John Veunema's consistent control and senses of stage-self; the refinement and sensitivity of Mark Capri, Giulia Pagano's embodiment of passionate will and personal challenge; the breadth and pleasure of Richard Ferrugio's characterizations — this is an authentic collection of actors.

Their world is contrived and well directed; Geoff Peterson has given them much to do, even under the weight of Shaw's heady dialogues. Their world is a construction. Richard B. Williams's set complements the lively network the actors make. William Burd lights it up!

These 12 people are a circus for the eye, ear, and mind! Ladies and gentlemen, step into this bright mental world! A Pantomime with Music! An Acting Waterspout! A Plane-crash into the Geraniums! An Anarchist with Black Flag! Tarleton's Underwear! A Pin Point Parachutist from the Skies Lands on the Tiny Intime Stage! (All of This Before Your Your Very Eyes, Ears, and Mind!)

See the Misalliances, the Generation Gaps, the Ideas that Make Our Times So Interesting, So Engaging! Your Last Chance!

A final sentiment: It is with a certain amount of PUFNSTUF: Jack Wild, who played the Artful Dodger in "Oliver!," returns to the screen as a visitor to a magical land in "Pufnstuf," an offshoot of a Saturday morning TV series now at the Capitol Plaza Cinema in Trenton and the Lawrence Drive-In. The cast includes a talking flute, an absentminded owl and a cheerful lion who sounds like W. C. Fields. Made by Universal Pictures as a movie that will entertain children and not bore the parents who accompany them.

distant affection and clear admiration that I see this season end.

These actors, many of them, are off to the larger realms they deserve. For those of us who have had the fine fortune to see them exploit personal brilliance and artful craft, there is a knowledge of both experience and art, creating a substance that endures.

WINNIE-THE-POOH

In the——er, Flesh. A musical version of the saga of Winnie-the-Pooh will be given this Sunday and Monday in Murray Theatre on the University campus by Summer Intime.

Performances have been scheduled for Sunday at 2:30 and Monday at 11 a.m. (The Monday matinee performance has been sold out) in the air conditioned theatre.

In this adaptation of the A.A. Milne's tale, the plump bear is host in the forest to Kanga and Baby Roo, and friend Piglet has a Bath. Deborah Savadge is directing.

Reservations — for children and/or parents—may be made by calling 452-8181 after 10 a.m. daily.

TWO FILMS END SERIES

Thriller and Prizefighter. "Champion," the 1949 prizefight film starring Kirk Douglas, and "Wait Until Dark," the Audrey Hepburn thriller, will bring the Summer Intime Film Festival to a close.

"Champion," based on Ring Lardner's story, will be shown next Monday at 8 p.m. in McCormick Art Museum on the University campus. It stars Douglas as a ruthless and egotistical fighter, and is the part that brought stardom to the actor.

"Wait Until Dark" will be shown next Tuesday at 8 p.m. in McCormick. It is the story of a blind woman terrorized by three men who visit her apartment in search of heroin which they believe is hidden there without the woman's knowledge.

Catch 22 (now playing) Mike Nichols' film version of Joseph Heller's best-selling novel of World War II is close enough to the original to please most readers of the book. Buck Henry (who also co-authored the script of "The Graduate") has retained a sufficient number of the alternately comical, outrageous and blood-curdling episodes.

The squadron briefing scene in which General Dreedle, played by the gargantuan and still formidably talented Orson Welles, is annoyed by the moaning noises the airmen make while leering at the sexy WAC who always accompanies him, has been so cleverly recreated that it is hilarious.

sarian, the slightly mad nonconformist and loner who just wants to be grounded and sent home, is superb. Also very front and center in Jon Voight as Milo, the shrewd opportunist who sets up an army syndicate.

Other actors who sketch their caricature roles sharply and quirkily are Richard Benjamin as the cheerful evil Captain Danby, Anthony Perkins as the lavishly appealing chaplain scriptwriter Hen ry as the nasty Lt. Col. Korn, Bob Newhart as Major Major and Paula Prentiss as Nurse Duckett.

The settings, filmed in Mexico and Rome, contribute to the atmosphere of fantasy required. David Watkins' photography is a thing of beauty. One memorable shot among many is that of the rickety B 25's taking off in an awkward formation looking like wind battered butterflies.

GARDEN

Z (now playing) is a French made melodrama about a political assassination that took place in Greece in 1963. It has an astonishing number of parallels to events in present day U.S.A. It also sends the senses to tingling after the fashion of the best movie thrillers.

The one now playing is in English, having replaced the one in French with subtitles.

A professor of medicine at the University of Athens, Gregorios Lambrakis, is the leader of a pacifist movement. Struck down by a truck as he leaves the hall where he has made a speech, his death is officially called "an accident" by the anxious government.

In a fascinating documentary style, "Z" reveals the means by which the truth is uncovered, largely through the efforts of a journalist photographer and a dedicated magistrate. The trail is followed with all the excitement of an top notch whodunnit.

Yves Montand appears as The Deputy, Irene Papas as Helene, with Jean Louis Trintignant, Charles Denner, Renato Salvatorie and others, all top actors — in the cast. Costa Gavras is director and co writer of the film script with Jorge Semprun. Makis Thcodurakis supplies a musical score that throbs with tension.

PLAYHOUSE

M*A*S*H* (now playing). If the Marx Brothers were still around, dressed in white surgical uniforms, and set near the front in Korea during the war, they would have probably turned out something like M*A*S*H*. Donald Sutherland, Elliott Gould and Tom Skeritt all make fine counterparts of the Marxes.

This is the anti-Establishment movie taken to the outer extremes of black comedy, with nothing sacred — not surgery, chastity, womanhood, religion, Army discipline, the sanctity of marriage, war movies, or even football. Nor are Eisenhower, MacArthur and Leonardo da Vinci exempted. All these and more take a satirical barrage that will warm the hearts of misanthropes.

The uninhibited heroes of M*A*S*H* (which means Mobile Army Surgical Hospital) are a trio of army surgeons who make their own rules. Their misadventures with friends and enemies, both male and female, take place mostly in Korea with a trip to Tokyo for an urgent operation on a senator's son and a quick game of golf.

Ring Lardner Jr. wrote the script from the novel by Richard Hooker. The intermingling of the deadly serious with the outrageously comic is so well handled that the congruity becomes funny and not repellant.

The doctors, for instance, cure a dentist of suicidal tendencies developed by sexual impotency. They seemingly go along with his desire to die — but drug him instead and slip a pretty nurse into his funeral heir for when he awakens. This episode includes an arrangement of the characters in a parody of "The Last Supper."

Kids Want Better Films.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Why doesn't the movie industry give us kids a break? Today, it is virtually impossible for people my age (I'll be 14 in December), to see a good movie geared to age group.

We are too young to get into the "R" rated movie without an adult, and too old for cartoons. Movies for those in this situation are few and far between and half the time they're nothing but junk, to put it mildly. Add to this the ridiculous prices they charge for a matinee (two dollars and up) and you are stuck with a disgusting mess.

Although I realize the necessity of a rating system of some sort to guide, and in some cases, protect the movie goer, I send this letter in the hope that soon there will be a wider variety of "G" and "GP" rated movies, not just exclusive "R" and "X" rated ones. These movies could be interesting and appealing to a wide range of age groups, as several movie premieres on TV have proved, and still attract the dollar sign.

Perhaps soon the movie industry will consider this "silent minority" instead of just catering to the adult market. Who says a movie has to be restricted to be good? We could all take a lesson from "Gone With the Wind."

Stop Plainsboro Apartments.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

This is a copy of a letter I have sent to Richard J. Sullivan, Commissioner of Environmental Protection.

ELIZABETH G. C. MENZIES
926 Kingston Road

You may have read that there are fast moving plans to build 5,500 apartment units on a 1,100 acre tract of fine Middlesex County farmland at Plainsboro, N.J. Twenty one acres would be devoted to a shopping center and 166 acres to light industry and office buildings.

The Plainsboro Township Committee has just passed a zoning amendment to allow this development.

NOTICE

TOWN TOPICS will make every effort, based on space limitations, to publish up to 500 words of any letter on a subject directly affecting the Princeton area. Because of the volume of news which must be covered at the community level, letters on topics of a national or international nature cannot be considered.

Letters to Mailbox should be typewritten if possible, double spaced, and must be signed for publication. Those received later than Monday afternoon may be held for use the following week.

I am sure you realize that the addition of what amounts to a small city to this crowded area will cause all kinds of pollution problems. We are already much aware of air pollution (especially with the recent inversion conditions) in this part of central New Jersey. Consider how a nearby new city with some 6,000 to 12,000 extra cars will add to this pollution.

The new city will not only have to dispose of its garbage, but also its sewage. The effluent will certainly flow into the FW2 Millstone River, which is already badly polluted. It will raise the river level, changing the ecology and adding to the flooding downstream.

I think immediate action should be taken to prevent the building of this huge development. It should be stopped BEFORE it is built, and not just lamented afterwards.

Seat Belts for Buses.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The latest bus accident tragedy that occurred in Pennsylvania once again brings up the issue of equipping buses with seat belts.

Title 39:3 76.2 dealing with Safety Belts made it mandatory for passenger cars to be equipped with seat belts, but it does not cover buses, trucks or other movable equipment.

I strongly recommend legislation be introduced in the State to make it mandatory that all school buses provide safety belts for each seat. This would not only protect the children from injury and possible fatalities, but would also result in less distraction to the operator of the bus, thereby allowing him to concentrate on driving rather than disciplining the children.

I urge you and your readers to petition for legislation that will provide this added measure of safety for our children.

ROBERT M. HENDRY
Chairman
Public Safety Committee

Remember Earth Day?

To the Editor of Town Topics:

It is regrettable that once the hue and cry of Earth Day subsided, many people reverted to the old habits: resolutions concerning clean up, littering, etc. have been tossed to the winds, thereby further ing air pollution.

The community should undertake to set up a permanent body volunteer or otherwise to continue the work initiated in this worthy battle for survival.

University Sets Guidelines for Political Activity

With the tax exempt status of many universities under fire because of the sorfeit of political activities on campuses, this spring, Princeton University has issued a statement of policy and guidelines drawn up from a review of the activities here.

While Princeton reaffirms the right of individuals and groups connected with the University Community to participate in political and social action, it has set some limitations. These are:

●Since the University is not allowed to intervene in any political campaign or influence legislation, individuals and groups within the University must take special care to make it clear that when expressing political sentiments on such matters, they are speaking only for themselves and not for the University.

●Faculty, staff and students have an obligation to fulfill all of their normal responsibilities in the University, and while they are free to engage in political activities, such activities must not be at the expense of their responsibilities to the University.

●While the University's name has traditionally been used in a limited way for purposes of identification by persons connected with the University, it must not be used for partisan political purposes.

●Organizations which include any significant number of persons from outside the University community may not be assigned space on campus.

●In so far as they involve or employ people not members of the Princeton University community, campus based organizations claiming national or regional status must base that portion, or all, of their activities off campus. Such organizations must also obtain and use post office boxes or other off campus mail addresses.

●Campus based organizations that participate or intervene in political campaigns or that attempt to influence legislation will be required to pay appropriate charges for the costs they impose on the University. This will normally involve payments for telephones, mimeographing, office space and other operational costs.

Other regulations concern fund raising and use of the University's computer center.

A spokesman for the Movement for a New Congress, which has its national headquarters on the University campus, said its activities would not be curtailed by the new guidelines.

A. F. Cafiero, the firm that installed the scrubber has completed the fabrication work necessary to make the scrubber fit.

About two weeks ago, a new 30 horsepower blower was installed — about twice the power of the former one, Mr. Harney said.

The state originally said Princeton had to bring the incinerator up to snuff by August 15, or shut it down. Last week, the state told Princeton that, while no indefinite extension could be granted, the Sewer Operating Committee should tell the state about how much time it might need.

If the 90 day period still isn't enough, the Sewer Operating Committee may pay the Borough's garbage collector to take burnables to his landfill in Monroe Township.

"Don't Go It Alone."

Princeton must consider a regional approach to the solution of the incinerator problem, declared Steve Slaby, 469 Ewing, before Township Committee at Monday night's meeting.

Mr. Slaby said he was alarmed at reports that Foster Jacobs, chairman of the Sewer Operating Committee, had brushed aside any idea of working with the county. Township Mayor John D. Wallace has said that the Township is "definitely interested" in talking what a county incinerator system might do for the Township. Mr. Jacobs is said to feel that the new seven community regional sewer plant could be redesigned so that it burn solid wastes.

"Don't go it alone!" pleaded Mr. Slaby before Committee, "and don't make any more expensive studies!"

He asked Committee to examine closely the Mercer County Improvement Authority report which envisions full incineration for the entire county by 1985.

Robert Harvey, assistant to the sanitary engineer for the Sewer Operating Committee, assured Mr. Slaby that "no doors have been closed to the county."

Mr. Slaby, an engineer who had assisted in the design of the incinerator's furnaces, told Committee the three furnaces were being pushed beyond capacity. Fires get hot, velocities in the chimney increase and ash is zipped up the chimney without having been burned — hence, fly-ash.

Incinerators operate eight hours a day. When William Cherry, 24 Dempsey Avenue, proposed a longer shift, Mr. Harvey said it wouldn't work and in fact, would only produce more fly-ash.

"As a public official who knows nothing at all about incinerators, I feel very naked," complained Committeeman Thomas Hartmann. "We keep hearing conflicting statements from experts: somebody's got to give us a straight line!"

Late in the spring, Mr. Jacobs was asked by Township Committee to present a report on where the sewer-incinerator situation stands. Committeeman James A. Floyd reminded his colleagues, suggesting that no money be allocated for studies until Mr. Jacobs' report.

THREE ARE FINED

For Speeding. Three Princeton area residents were fined Monday in Borough court for speeding.

Cathleen Patrick, 24, RD 4, paid $30; Taylor A. Marrow Sr., 52, 121 Birch Avenue, $27; and Robert J. Burt, 19, Cleveland Road, $19. All pleaded guilty.

WANT A SLICE OF LAND?

Yes, Says Township. A slice of land in the northwestern part of the Township has been given to the municipality as "open space," to be added to the Autumn Hill Reservation. The gift was accepted Monday night by Township Committee.

The land belongs to No Assets, Inc., the corporation headed by W. Bryce Thompson IV, Princeton real estate agent. It is 218 feet long and 65 feet wide, on the northwest corner of Autumn Hill Road and Cordova Road, along the swath cut by the Transcontinental Pipeline.

The slice is part of 2.082 acres Mr. Thompson's company owns. A prospective buyer is interested in the parcel but doesn't want the part next to Transco. Splitting off the narrow strip still leaves enough land to meet the area's zoning requirements, Gordon Griffin, Township attorney, told Committee. The Township will lose $56 a year in taxes by accepting the land gift.

A stop sign will be erected on Harris Road where it inter

Drug "Center" Opens

Through a typographical error, the wrong information was given in last week's issue in regard to the new Child Guidance adolescent drug center.

The project has its new home at 291 (not 91) Witherspoon Street, in a house next to the service station just off Henry Avenue. The telephone number is 924-3130.

The center is open and in business, for any young people who want to drop by. However it's here at the moment and in need of furniture ... comfortable chairs, lamps, tables, rugs.

NEW FIRM OPENS HERE

Three Princetonians Involved. Delafield, Harvey, Tabell, a new firm whose three Princeton members have had extensive experience on Wall Street, opened its doors Monday at 909 State Road.

The principals are Maturin L. Delafield, until recently a general partner in Delafield & Delafield; Ashton Harvey, who had been associated with Montgomery, Scott & Co. since 1956; and Anthony W. Tabell, former senior vice president and director of technical research for Walston & Co., Inc., and author of the Tabell Market Letter.

The company, which will operate as a division of Montgomery, Scott of Philadelphia, will concentrate its activities in three main areas. Primary emphasis will be on the management of money on a fee basis; institutional sales based on technical research; and publishing of Tabell's Market Letter — a Wall Street institution since its founding in 1944 which is estimated to have a current circulation in excess of 100,000.

All three executives of the new firm have extensive backgrounds and experience in the field of security analysis. Mr. Delafield, 37, was in the research department of New York Trust Co. prior to joining the investment advisory department of Delafield & Delafield in 1950. His father, Livingston, founded the firm in 1937; his grandfather, Edward Delafield, is the senior partner there. He lives on Alta Vista Drive.

Mr. Harvey, 41, whose training includes research, accounting, and security analysis, specialized in the management of personal security portfolios during his 14 years with Montgomery, Scott. His home is on Province Line Road.

Mr. Tabell, 38, joined his father, Edmund at Walston in 1954, specializing in the technical approach to stock market analysis. He succeeded his father as Walston's major institutional consultant. His address is 76 Crooked Tree Lane.

AIR SERVICE EXPANDED

By Ransome Airlines. Ransome Airlines, under an agreement with Allegheny Airlines, has begun commuter service between Trenton, Philadelphia International Airport and Washington National Airport. The service, which began Saturday, is being provided with 15-passenger Beech Volpar Jet-prop Turboliners.

Supplementing Allegheny Airlines' service between Trenton, Washington and Boston, the Allegheny Commuter will provide flights to Philadelphia leaving Mercer County Airport at 7:10 and 9:20 a.m. and 12:15, 3:20, 4:50 and 8:05 p.m.

The 12:15, 3:30 and 4:50 flights will continue to Washington. Additional service to the nation's capitol will be provided with a 7 a.m. non stop flight. Allegheny Airlines flights will leave from Trenton at 12:14 p.m. and 2:34 p.m. to Bridgeport and Boston, and 1:53 p.m. and 4:56 p.m. to Wilmington and Washington.

The airline will handle all reservations and provide customer service at Trenton and Philadelphia Airports.

PAR EARNINGS DROP For Six-Month Period

Princeton Applied Research has announced a drop in net income of 37% on sales that increased by 4.4% for the six month period ending June 30.

The company attributes the decline in income to a single factor—incoming orders and resulting sales were about 10% below the target on which operating budgets were set. Operating expenses were within 2% of the budget and cost of sales decreased to 42.6% of sales from 44% for the comparable period last year.

Total orders for the first half were up 9% primarily as a result of a continued strong growth in the foreign markets, which were up 74%. This compensated in part for the greater than expected decrease experienced in the domestic market, which was down 19%.

In light of the decline, the company has initiated a revaluation of priorities. Certain expansion programs in product development and marketing have been postponed. Some promotional hiring programs have been reduced, and a freeze on new hirings and capital expenditures has been installed.

PROFIT REPORTED

By Systemedics for Six Months. Based on a 30 per cent increase in 1970 first half sales from the comparative period a year ago, Systemedics has reported earnings of approximately one cent a share, as opposed to a loss of 18 cents a share in 1969.

Sales this year for the Princeton based firm, located in Air Research Park, Route 206, reached $742,986 compared with $574,216 a year ago. This left Systemedics with a net profit of $5,907, as opposed to a net loss of $103,108 for the first half of 1969.

William Krause, president, commented that sales and earnings for the second half will continue this growth and profit trend, but declined to estimate second half figures. He did indicate they will meet or exceed original company projections.

The firm has added its fourth operating facility with the establishment of a Florida office in North Miami, with sales, service and production capabilities to serve the Southern market area. Other offices are located in Los Angeles and San Francisco, in addition to Princeton.

sects Henry Avenue, and one on Longview where it enters Lake Drive. The state has approved both.

Railroad Fare Hearings Set. Passenger fare increases are being sought by Penn Central (up 25%) and the Jersey Central (15%) and hearings will be held this Friday at 10 a.m. in the State Office Building, Newark. In these rate increase requests, the public is represented by a rate counsel, Mr. Griffin reminded Committee. Hearings will be held elsewhere in the state during August.

Rocky Hill Montgomery Township sewer construction is pumping along nicely, according to a report from former Township mayor Carl C Schafer, who is Princeton Township's representative on the sewer committee.

Things may be in operation by September, Mr. Schafer reports. Princeton Township is buying in to about one-third of the new system.

Mrs. Norman Hostler 29 Duffield Place, protested bitterly to Committee Monday night about the 4 p.m. summer closing time for Township offices. She had gone to the tax office a few minutes after 4 to pay her quarterly property tax and found the door locked. She told Committee she would make an electioo issue of the matter this fall.

Acting Mayor William L. Wilson explained that the early closing was a relic of days when offices weren't air conditioned.

SUSPECT PICKED UP

In Nini Car Theft. A suspect in the theft of two cars last month from the lot of Nini Chrysler Plymouth, Route 206, was picked up on a warrant last week in Wilmington Del., by Township Detective Norman Servis.

Larry D. Kennedy 21, was held over for action by a Grand Jury, following his arraignment Friday before Township Judge Burton Peskin. Judge Peskin set bail at $2,000.

Kennedy has been charged with breaking and entering and two counts of larceny. Both cars were later recovered in Delaware. One had been stripped and the other damaged in a high speed chase.

BARBER'S SIGN STOLEN

On Nassau Street. A revolving sign, attached to the wall in front of the Rialto Barber Shop, 128 Nassau Street, was reported stolen Monday morning by owner Ettore Cifelli. Police said that wires leading to the sign, which was valued at $175, had been cut.

Earlier, a mirror in a front hallway leading to upstairs apartments in a building at 102 Nassau was stolen, police reported. It was valued at $100.

Robert Cram of Hodge Hall, Princeton Theological Seminary, reported a $35 camera stolen last week from his car parked in a Seminary lot. He told police that he had left his car unlocked.

Jan Karshenbaum, a boarder in a rooming house at 134 Witherspoon Street, had his tape recorder stolen from his room last week. He valued it at $110.

Mr. Karshenbaum told police that he had seen two youths run out of his room. He reported the theft to the owner of the building, Edward Grant, who called the police.

A table model television set, two cameras and camera accessories with a combined value of $372 were stolen from the room of John Cuyler, 6 Hulfish Street.

Mr. Cuyler told police the theft took place between 9 p.m. Saturday and 12:25 Sunday morning. There were no signs of forced entry and he told Sgt. Theodore Lewis and Pfc. Gerald Patterson, the investigating officers, that he did not remember whether he locked his door or not.

Wet Feet, Empty Pockets. Two persons had their money stolen last week while they were wading in the pool next to the Woodrow Wilson Building on Prospect Avenue.

Miss Patricia Parkinson of Trenton told police that $10 and a watch valued at $30 were in her purse which she had left on the edge of the pool. It was later recovered with the money and watch missing, police said.

Timothy Briggs of Lawrenceville lost a wallet containing $18 from the side of the pool.

ANOTHER STEP TOWARD CLEANER AIR: Staff vice-president Arthur N. Curtiss, and Eric N. James, manager of facilities examine the new incinerator soon to be in operation at the David Sarnoff Research Center in Princeton. The gas-fired, dual-chamber disposal system exudes exhaust virtually free of all particulate matter. The new incinerator replaces a 28-year-old one installed when the Center was first built.

GREEN LIGHT FLASHED

For U-Store Book Expansion. The Borough Zoning Board last week authorized that a conditional use be granted the University Store to relocate its gift and stationery departments in the basement — provided the space formerly occupied by these departments be devoted solely to the expansion of the store's book department.

Its decision, in effect, reversed an earlier one by the Borough zoning officer who had ruled he U-Store was a nonconforming use and therefore the relocation was illegal.

Frederick J. Worthington, manager of the U-Store since 1947, had testified before the board that the decision to expand the book department had come primarily from an elaborate study headed by Herbert S. Bailey Jr., director of the Princeton University Press. "The report's primary recommendation," he said, "was to increase our collection of scholarly books, particularly those in economics, sociology and anthropology."

In addition, the department's aisles would be widened and shelves lowered to make browsing more enjoyable.

"There's very little profit in scholarly books," Mr. Worthington told the board. "There's very little turnover, a very high shopworn markdown and a lot of paperwork involved." Some 30 to 50,000 books are special ordered every year.

Mr. Worthington added that the Princeton University community purchases more than $1 million worth of books a year. The number of titles in the book department would increase from some 35,000 to about 38,000, "but as a percentage of sales, we will have less profit," Mr. Worthington reported.

To make room for the gift and stationery departments, which total about 2,500 square feet, the typewriter and radio repair shops and a stock room have been moved to a building on Alexander Road, formerly occupied by the Tia Electric Co. The additional 2,500 feet will increase the U-Store's retail space to 17,239 square feet. As a result of the relocation, Mr. Worthington told the board that the U-Store's staff of about 100 would be increased by one.

The Store's Purpose. Mr. Worthington told the board that the U-Store had been founded to serve the needs of the Princeton University community and its main business still is to supply the needs of those in academic pursuits. It has six primary departments which account for 68.9 percent of all sales and three secondary departments. The travel bureau, designed primarily for students, is run on a concession basis and does about $500,000 a year in gross ticketing. The radio (TV repair ($50 $70,000 a year) and typewriter repair ($20 $25,000) are operated on an informal lease basis.

Asked the extent of influence of Princeton University on the U-Store, Mr. Worthington replied, "I think if they said to go out of business, we'd close our doors. There's no question that the University controls the U-Store." The store is operated under a Board of Trustees consisting of faculty, students and alumni of the University.

The U-Store also operates as a true co-operative. Members ($10, returnable after 5 years) are entitled to share in the profits of the organization which are returned in the form of rebates based on their purchases. Membership is open to everyone associated with the Princeton University community.

"Has the mode of operation of the store changed significantly?" queried one member. "Not changed really, just grown," Mr. Worthington replied.

SCHOOLS TO HIRE HELP From Minority Groups. Ten teacher aides, chosen from the Princeton community's minority groups will join the staff of the Middle School this fall.

The Princeton Regional Schools have received a Federal grant of $19,224 to launch the aide program. Money will be used to train the ten aides and pay the salary of the teacher who will serve as program coordinator.

Mrs. Ruth Randall, eighth grade social studies teacher in the Middle School, has been selected from the teachers who applied. She will have a one year special assignment.

Aides can be either men or women, said Eugene Biringer, associate superintendent of schools, who announced the grant. "We are seeking aides who are black or who are Italian," Mr. Biringer stated, "and we'd like to hire people who live here in Princeton."

Starting salary, to be paid on a contract basis, is $4,500 a year. Men or women who would like to apply should call the schools' personnel director Stanley Stein, at 924-5600, or write him directly at the Stony Brook Administration Building, Princeton.

"You don't have to be a high school graduate to apply," Mr. Biringer emphasized.

The schools have already begun to recruit aides chiefly by word of mouth or by conferring with parents who have been helping the schools on a volunteer basis. Aides will be trained during the month of September.

Articulate Applicants Sought

"We would be very much interested in, let's say, a black woman who is a domestic and would like to break away from that kind of work," Mr. Biringer said. "We want people who can talk easily and communicate with other people kids as well as adults."

Mr. Biringer spoke of a school custodian who worked last year as a volunteer in an aide capacity. "He loved it and the kids loved him, and we certainly hope he will apply."

Aides will relieve teachers of some duties so the teachers can devote more professional teaching time to individual children. Also, the aides will give minority children an adult from their own group to look up to.

One aide will be assigned to each "house" in the Middle School and will work with about 125 kids and five teachers. In a group within a class has a special project, like a science chart, for example, the aide will help the pupil organize the chart and work out a format.

Homework for All. Or an aide would read a book at home, during homework just like a student, and discuss the book with children who had read it, too. Another aide might move around among children who were doing independent study while the teacher worked with two or three children who needed special help.

"What the aide actually does depends on the teacher's imagination," Mr. Biringer commented.

The Middle School program is a pilot program, and the long range goal is to extend the aide program to the entire district.

"As we pointed out in our application," Mr. Biringer said, "only 46% of our teachers live in Princeton and in spite of our recruiting program, only 7.6% of our teachers are black."

"We think there's a need to bring people who live right here in Princeton into the school system and train them for educational jogs with the pupils. This increases the range of adult models a child has, and makes our educational program more responsive to the racial and socio economic base of the Princeton community."

The schools also hope that in service training and working with teachers will spur aides to go on up the career ladder.

If they don't have a high school diploma, maybe they'd start working for an equivalency certificate." Mr. Biringer suggests "or they might consider going to college, or taking some para professional courses in colleges."

When application for Federal money was announced last spring, it was criticized at a school board meeting by a Princeton resident who felt that volunteer aides were preferable to paid ones.

Mr. Biringer pointed out this week that the kind of aide the school wants cannot usually afford to take non paying work.

CONTE CATCHES TEAGUE

Ruth Have 11-3 Records.

Conte's Bar moved back into a first place tie with idle Teague and Hinds last week in the Princeton Recreation Adult Softball League with an 11-2 victory over Varsity Sport Shop.

Slugging standouts for Conte's were Jim Quinn who had a triple and two singles and Bill Bartolino who clouted a pair of doubles. Dick Fowler picked up the win.

Cellar dwelling Harrison Athletic Club scored seven runs on seven hits in the first inning but its opponent, Nassau Conover had a better idea; it blasted 18 hits, including a two run homer by Mike Desmond, to go on to win, 13-7. After the first inning, Tim Desmond and Tom Brophy held HAC to three hits. Desmond got the win.

Ivy Inn moved up a notch by trouncing the Outlaws, 14-3. Tony Pirone and Dave Britton combined for six hits and five runs for Ivy, while teammate Bud Britton stroked two hits and scored three more runs. Eight runs in the third put the game out of reach.

Rich Volz's homer with a man on accounted for two of the losers' three runs.

Other games cancelled by rain have been rescheduled for August 12.

TOWN TOPICS goes into every home and place of business in Princeton. By their own figures, no other newspaper does half as well.

OUTLAWS: Two members of the Outlaw infield in the Princeton Adult Softball League are Ray Pettus (left) and Gerald Grover. Third baseman Grover is the league's leading hitter and at mid-season was credited with an eye-opening .722 average. He is a 1966 graduate of Princeton High School. Pettus was shortstop on the 1970 PHS team, a position he also plays for the Outlaws. (Staff Photo)

RACE TIGHTENS UP

In BSL Western Division.

McGraw Hill has already clinched first place in the eastern division of the Business Softball League, but at the end of last week's play, no less than three teams still stood a chance to capture the top spot in the west.

NCA led the group with a 10-3 mark, followed by RCA A at 9-3, and Cities Service at 9-4. RCA A still had a make-up game to be played against Hopewell TV. Barring upsets, it appears the title will be decided this Tuesday when NCA and RCA A meet in the final game of the season.

While it still has an outside shot of winning, if both RCA A and NCA lose one and it wins two, Cities Service lost its best chance when it dropped a 7-6 decision to RCA A last week. Behind 6-4 in the fifth, RCA pushed across three runs. Mel Sanders drove in Wally Reichert with the winning tally.

A week earlier Ed Krieger helped RCA stay in contention with fine relief pitching over the final two innings. While his mates scored six runs to break up an 11-11 deadlock, Krieger limited RCA Astra to just one run as RCA A won, 17-12.

NCA won both of its contests, 3-1 over Firmenich and 9-4 over Hopewell TV.

In the east, second place FMC had the satisfaction of beating McGraw Hill, 8-3. Depending on how both fare in the post season playoffs, it may get a chance to do it again. In this contest, FMC jumped off to a six run lead in the first inning and was never headed. Chris Rich's bases loaded triple was the big blow.

Hal Jarrow singled home the final two runs in the sixth. Bob Stolarz pitched a fine game, limiting the heavy hitting McGraw Hill club to just two hits after the second inning.

The following week, McGraw Hill got back in the groove, again, thumping Shearer Tree, 25-2. Marty Mickl had four hits and five different players hit a four bagger.

ETS won two more games to move into a tie for third place with Accelerator, and a more important one game ahead of ERC for a spot in the post season playoffs.

In its first game, ETS whipped Shearer's, 17-11, highlighted by a nine-run fourth inning. Joe High and Jerry Kramer had three hits apiece. Bill Degler had two hits and three RBIs, and John Baron had a home run. Cal Smith had three hits, including a triple and a home run for the losers.

In an earlier contest, ETS broke up a 4-4 tie with RCA B scoring four runs in the fifth and went on to triumph, 8-5. Jim Jackson and Kramer each had three hits, and Rich Ferris had a home run.

American Cyanamid split its games, losing to ERC, 13-12, and winning over Accelerator, 9-6. Against Accelerator, Cyanamid scored two in the seventh to tie the game at 6-6, and then won it with three more in the eighth. Buddy Macrie led the winners attack with three hits, three runs and three RBIs.

It can run the mile in 5¢ flat.

Who says a nickel won't buy anything anymore?

That solitary nickel pays for your gas. (Naturally.)

And oil. And tires. And maintenance. And repairs. And depreciation. And registration. And insurance.

And even some nifty accessories. (Like a radio. Floor mats. Luggage rack.)

Five cents.

That's all it takes to run the mile in a Volkswagen.

Of course if you want, you can run the mile in someone else's car.

But you'll never see the finish line on a nickel.

Because a U.S. Government study says the average conventional car costs more:

10.9 cents a mile.

Heh-heh-heh.

JUNIOR TENNIS HELD

Two from Here in Finals. In a field of almost 200 entries, Princeton's young tennis players had tough going last week in the New Jersey District 12-and-under and 14-and-under tournaments.

Among Princeton's competitors, those who fared best were David Bowen and Jay Lapidus who reached the finals of the 12-and-under doubles, losing to the top-seeded duo, William Ramsay of Bala-Cynwyd and John Speer of Bethlehem, Pa., 6-3, 6-4.

Dudley Fitzpatrick and his partner, Danny Schulman, also scored well, both reaching the semis of the Boys 12 doubles, before being ousted by Ramsey and Speer. Dudley was also a finalist in the Boys 12 Consolations, losing to Andy Jacobs of Metuchen in a close match, 7-5, 6-4.

Other Princeton area residents who earned prizes were Steve Norris, Andrea Newman, Carolyn Peattie and Heidi Eichenberger. All reached the consolation finals in their respective age divisions.

Trophies for Sportsmanship. Winner of the Girls Sportsmanship Trophy awarded by the Pepsi Cola Co. was Lisa Mittnacht of Princeton. Richard Goode of Lake Worth, Fla., won the Boys Sportsmanship Trophy awarded by Capitol Sporting Goods of Trenton.

Winners in the various divisions were:

EAGLES GAIN GROUND

In Junior Baseball Rain shortened play last week in the Princeton Youth Baseball Association junior division, but of the four games played three were decided by one run and the fourth by two.

Eagles gained ground on Engine No. 3 with a 4-3 victory over Hook & Ladder. Relief pitcher Joe Herrmann was the game's Frank Merriwell as he knocked in the tying and winning runs with a homer — one of four hits the Eagles got off losing pitcher Nohman El Meligi, who fanned eight. Herrmann struck out five in the two innings he pitched.

Jim McCarthy, John Silverman and Keith Wadsworth got the other hits off El Meligi. Hook & Ladder collected eight hits, including blows by Dan Aronovic, Chris Miller and El Meligi.

Meanwhile, Post 76 was shading Engine No. 3 to hand the losers their first setback of the season.

Scoring all three Legionnaire runs were Paul Soderman who batted 3 for 4, including a double. Jeff Bartolino sacrificed to score Soderman in the fifth, and singled in the seventh for the winning run. Bill Crane and Scott Thompson also hit safely for Post 76.

After Post 76 scored a run in the fifth, No. 3 came back to it's no laughing matter...

WE JUST DON'T HAVE ENOUGH ROOM FOR OUR NEW SKI SHOP ADDITION . . . so-o-o-o, we're clearing everything out . . . well most everything . . . to make room. We've rounded up everything lying around we couldn't use (it didn't sell) and while we are not going to pay you to take the stuff off our hands, we are going to sell it at . . . how do the ads put it? . . . oh, yes, at Ridiculously Low Prices! We've been ruthless this time. We've uncovered things behind old counters, tucked away in back rooms . . . we've even dragged a few dogs collecting dust up from the cellar. We've also tossed in some fall and winter items . . . some old ski jackets . . . a couple of footballs . . . just about everything not nailed down. Of course we've hung onto a few things like Al DeStefano, our expert racket restringer and our large line of Speedo swim suits, our new Head rackets and our Gerry camping gear — much as we would like to include these in our sale the maufacturers say that's a no-no. A lot of other up-to-date things we ARE offering at reduced prices. For example, TENNIS DRESSES ARE HALF PRICE, 20 to 50% OFF A SELECT GROUP OF SQUASH AND TENNIS RACKETS, BASEBALL EQUIPMENT 25% OFF (Bowie Kuhn says it's okay). And if that isn't enough, just to show you we mean business: TENNIS BALLS $8 A DOZEN. When you see our new Ski Shop addition, you'll understand why we needed the extra space: it's going to be something. Meanwhile, Think Snow — and pick up a bargain during our sale. It starts Thursday by the way. Put a little sunshine in your life — and ours. Just one postscript: Please, we don't want to see our sale items again. For this sale, no charges, no returns.

tie it in the sixth to send the contest into extra innings. Steve O Neil who pitched four hit ball for six innings got the win Chris Leuper relieved him in the seventh. Mike Barren absorbed the loss.

Italian American Sports men's Club parlayed 11 hits, including four for extra bases, into a 5 4 victory over the Elks. John Petrone and Gary Collucio each had a single and double for the Sportsmen Jeff Petrone a single and triple and Pat King a triple.

A two run homer by losing pitcher Howie Brooks was the big blow for the losers. Perone gave up seven hits in going the distance for IASC.

Five pitchers, three from Engine No. 1 and two from Roma Eterna paraded to the mound before No. 1 walked off with an 8 6 victory — its fourth in nine starts while Roma was losing its ninth straight.

Martin Gilvar, Bob Willis and Jim LaPlaca pitched for No. 1 and together they struck out six and gave up seven hits. John Boccanfuso and Dave Young held No. 1 to five hits and whiffed nine, Young taking the loss.

Tom Bolster, Rod Brady, Morgan Mohrman, LaPlaca and Gilvar all hit safely for No. 1. Tom Hagadorn, Young and Boccanfuso each rapped two hits for the losers, Mohrman for No. 1 and Young for Roma hit doubles.

GREEN ENDS UNBEATEN

In Summer Lacrosse. Green ended the six week summer lacrosse season with a perfect 6 0 record, while Red and Blue each posted 3 3 marks and Navy failed to win in six tries.

In its final game, Green scored four goals in the fourth period against Red to break a 3 3 tie and go on to an 8 5 victory. Bruce Bashuk, Jon Pettit, three goals each, and Bob Couper accounted for all eight scores. In addition, each had one assist.

Jim Koplmer and Ferdie Baruch each scored twice for Red.

Blue routed Navy, 12 1, behind the three goal performances of Tony Reish and Phil Andresen. Evan Donaldson and Coley Donaldson added a pair of goals apiece. Carl Burns tallied Navy's lone goal.

In non league contests, Princeton lost to an older and more experienced Elizabeth team, 8 2, Jon JPettit and Bob Couper scoring, and defeated Fairlawn, 6 1. In the latter, Coley Donaldson scored twice; Bob Hendricks, Couper, Koplmer and Reish added single tallies.

Fifteen year old Don Pettit was the Princeton goalie

In Semi-Finals Twice

Terry Blake of Lawrenceville, third seeded in the Stone Harbor Junior Tennis Championships, reached the semi-finals of both the 16 and under and 18 and under girls singles championships.

In the 16's, she lasted four rounds before meeting top seeded Diane Armao of Springfield, Pa. In the 18's, she went three rounds before being ousted by second seeded Jan Bloodworth of Doylestown, Pa.

Terry, a member of the Cullen Tournament Group, has been playing the Junior Tournament circuit for several years. For her 1969 record, she was ranked 13th in the 16 and under and 18th in the 18 and under by the Middle States Lawn Tennis Association. This week she is playing the Trenton tournament, followed by Allentown and then Wilmington.

THORNE'S, PBA WIN

In PBYA Sr. Division. Rain limited action to a pair of games last week in the senior division of the Princeton Youth Baseball Association.

Greg Kline of Thorne Pharmacy struck out ten and gave up just three hits to earn a 5 4 decision over New York Life. The win moved Thorne's into first place with a 5 4 record.

Bob Speagle drove in two runs when he tripled after Bob Turgeon and Kline had singled. He hit his second triple later in the game and scored on Pete Neuwirth's single. Kline also had a double for two hits. Losing hurler George Reynolds fanned seven.

In a contest halted after six innings because of darkness, PBA defeated Princeton Bank & Trust, 10 3.

Supplying the power for PBA were Pat Kahny, who had three hits, and Jamie Petrone and John Mooney. The latter pair had two hits apiece. Mooney got the win, striking out eight; John Videbeck, who was relieved by Dan Coluccio, was charged with the loss.

The standings:

PRINCETON WINS, 16-3

In National PAL Opener. In the opening round of the National PAL tournament, the Princeton Motor Lodge all-stars, comprised of players from the Princeton Youth Baseball Association league's junior division, routed Totowa PAL, 16 3. The game was played last week at Trenton's Betts Field.

Motor Lodge will next play Irvington PAL Saturday afternoon at 3 on the same field.

Joe Herrmann went the distance for Princeton Motor Lodge, giving up three runs and six hits. The victors' big inning came in the third when they rounded out eight of their 15 hits for 11 runs.

After Jim LaPlaca grounded out to open the inning, Jon Arrington walked. Paul Soderman, John Perone, Bill Crane, Bob McHugh and Herrmann followed with consecutive singles. Jeff Perone then doubled and Dana Nini was hit by a pitched ball.

Arrington, up for the second time, singled, followed by a walk to Soderman. After Nini stole home, Perone ended the scoring with a sacrifice. The final out came when Crane was cut down trying to stretch his second single of the inning into a double.

Perone and Petrone had three hits apiece for Princeton while McHugh and Crane had two each. Others on the squad were Mike Boonin, Tom Hagadorn, Mike Barren, Jay Collins and Bob Celli.

Coaches for the all star squad are Bob Bruschi and Chris Fischer. Craig Wood is manager.

News Of The CHURCHES

CHORAL SERVICE FRIDAY

225-Voice Choir to Sing. Princeton University Chapel will be the scene of a Festival Choral Service at 8:30 this Friday evening. It will feature a 225-voice choir of men and boys from all over the United States under the direction of the internationally famous composer conductor Dr. Francis Jackson, organist and director of music at York Minster in England.

The festival choral service, which is open to the public, will bring to a close the second joint Anglo-American boy choir training course to be held in the United States under the joint sponsorship of the Royal School of Church Music and the Music Commission of the Diocese of New Jersey. The course is being held on the campus of Westminster Choir College in Princeton in cooperation with the College and the Joint Commission on Church Music of the Episcopal Church.

The festival service, will be conducted by the Right Reverend Albert VanDuzer, S.T.D., Suffragan Bishop of New Jersey; the Right Reverend Frederick J. Warnecke, S.T.D., Bishop of Bethlehem, and the Vencrable Frederic P. Williams, Archdeacon of Indianapolis. The choir made of men and boys from churches as far away as Seattle and Fort Worth and Florida will perform works by Arnatt, Batten, Bristol, Friedell, Jackson, and Sowerby. The service will be preceded by a 15-minute organ recital.

As part of the Service, Westminster Choir College will award to Dr. Francis Jackson an honorary fellowship award. This award has been given only rarely in the 44-history of the Choir College and is presented to persons who have distinguishe dthemselves in the field of the arts.

DR. SCOTT TO PREACH

At Princeton Baptist. Dr R B. Y Scott, former professor of Old Testament at Princeton University, will preach during the 10 a.m. service on Sunday in Princeton Baptist Church at Penns Neck. He will also lead the August 23 service.

The author of a number of books, including the commentary on Proverbs and Ecclesiastes in the "Anchor" series, Dr. Scott has chosen for his sermon topics, both from Ecclesiastes, "What's New?" and "Nothing Ventured, Nothing Gained."

BULLETIN NOTES

Marvin Reed, director of communications for the New Jersey Education Association, will lead the informal service at 9:30 a.m. this Sunday at the Unitarian Church. His topic is "Teaching as a Way of Doing."

The Rev. Mac Wells, associate pastor of First Presbyterian Church, will preach at the 10 a.m service of the Princeton Presbyterian churches, meeting at St. Andrew's. Thomas McBeth is organist and choir director for the service.

Anti-Drug Teams Form

Six task forces organized on Sunday to combat drug usage among Princeton youth. About 40 persons attended the meeting in First Presbyterian Church, held at the suggestion of the Rev. William Kight, minister to youth for the Presbyterian Commission.

The task forces lined up are for legislative and judicial reform, a halfway house, emergency needs, institutional visits, institution at liaison, and a "hot line," or 24-hour emergency counseling service. The hot line task force will hold an open meeting at 11 this Sunday at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. Young people are encouraged to attend. Use the Chambers Street entrance of the church.

Volunteers interested in serving on a task force should write to the Rev. Mr Kight, in care of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

WATCH THE KIDS GO. There's plenty of running room on the estate type property near Lawrenceville, with approximately 3 acres of lawn and woods plus there is a 25' x 50' Sylvan swimming pool, with an attractive cabana and workshop. The main house is a rustic style brick and frame Cape Cod with 6 rooms, 1½ baths, breezeway, and attached garage with a circular blacktop drive; retiring owner asking $56,500. Will listen to a reasonable offer.

The difference between a dead-end cellar and a basement-for-living

Without direct access to the out-of-doors, your basement becomes a seldom used, dead-end area, instead of a "live", low-cost space for the enjoyment of your whole family.

A BILCO Basement Door costs so little when it's included in the foundation construction. With it, you will as much as double the living space of your new home! Let us show you how easily and inexpensively you can include a BILCO Door and Stair Stringers in your building plans.

HOUSE FOR SALE. Transfer of owner overseas forces rapid sale of large, pleasant, split-level home. The house which is on an ample, well-landscaped lot with many large trees is only a few minutes drive from Princeton but is available at a very attractive price ideal for a family with children and the area has an excellent school system with a school bus stop almost outside. The house is screened from the road by trees and has a black topped drive way with turning area. Exterior is finished with cedar shingles and rough field stone at lower level. Ground floor has two car garage, children's playroom with underfloor heating, utilities room and powder room. Middle level has large living room with bay window and stone fireplace, dining room and big kitchen. Upper level has three bedrooms with large closets and one and one half bathrooms. Oil burning furnace in concrete basement supplies hot water for base board heating. From the brick terrace behind the living room there is an uninterrupted view of fields and woods. Direct sale avoids realtors fees and permits price in upper thirties. Please call (609) 737-0465. 8-6-3t

WOOD YOU BELIEVE!

Maybe we didn't spell it right, but we sure made it right. And right smack where it belongs — in the woods. This fantastic contemporary simply defies description. Strictly one of a kind, and incomparable from the word go. Ziggity-zag roof lines, exposed beamed ceilings, thermopane glass walls — the works. And functional as can be, with a large living room and marble fireplace faced with brick travertine, dining room, very special and spacious kitchen, 1 bedrooms, 3 baths, study, game room, basement, 2 car garage. With all sorts of special features, such as cork floors, built-in-bar, self cleaning oven, outside redwood deck — to mention only a few. In a picture-like setting in Princeton's Riverside, overlooking Lake Carnegie. $99,000

ATTENTION!

Very particular . . . about owning a house built the right way? This house is being lived in by the family that built it. He's a professional mason and they've built several houses on their own. Built in the rolling, lush open air farmlands of Washington Township minutes from Robbinsville and convenient shopping, 20 minutes to Princeton, 15 to Trenton. This contemporary colonial house has features . . . air conditioning with special electronic pollen filter, soundproof internal walls . . . you'd have built in yourself. A few neighbors of equal caliber, but across the street from a Greenacres Park reserve so you won't be built in.

NOTICE!

You'll be living in some of the prettiest countryside around on the winding River Road in the beautiful, historical Millstone River Valley. You'll be minutes from shopping, Princeton, culture, commuting, and recreation. This 4 bedroom — 2 bath, cedar shake ranch was recently professionally appraised at $44,300, but is being offered at $41,900 because the owners want to start building their new home on land recently purchased. Adjoins a Greenacres Park reserve. This is a house with a lot of advantages. Call and let us tell you about all the features!

ONCE-IN-A-LIFETIME BUY

If you know the Princeton real estate market, then you'll agree that nothing else in the $80,000's can compare with this architect-designed, custom built colonial on its two wooded acres in Princeton's Western Section. Large center hall, step-down living room with fireplace, paneled study with fireplace and adjoining lavatory, dining room, sunny family room opening to screened porch, terrific kitchen, mud room, children's lavatory, hobby room, 4 bedrooms, 2 baths, master dressing room and laundry on second floor. Attic and basement. Two car garage. Couldn't possibly be reproduced for the price; if we needed a house we'd snap it up ourselves at $89,500

YOUNG AND EAGER, for a house of your own? We know it's difficult for the first-house hunter to find what he can afford right in Princeton, so we think this 3 bedroom, 1½ bath house near Lawrenceville might be your answer. Living room, study and family room. Modern kitchen, screened porch. Garage. $31,900.

SIMPLY THE BEST NEWER HOUSE WE HAVE EVER SEEN: Near the emerald fairways of the Bedens Brook Club, this has 5 bedrooms, 4½ baths and all the living space you could possibly use including Living room, study, family room and playroom all with fireplaces! Formal dining room, country kitchen, glass walled sun room. Beautiful, wooded grounds. Many expensive extras. Stunning authentic Colonial design. Over $100,000.

FOR EASE AND COMFORT IN THE WESTERN SECTION, try this charming and most unusual one-story house with a lovely secluded garden. Big, living-dining room with walls of glass over-looking terrace and shaded grounds. Gourmet kitchen. Two bedrooms and bath, plus study-guest room and bath in separate wing. $76,000

IMAGINATION is what sets this one story house apart from others in its price range. Long, low lines, high ceilings, lots of glass, interesting detail, and unexpected skylight — these are what its all about. Foyer, living room with fireplace, dining room, family room opening to shaded terrace, modern kitchen, 4 bedrooms, 2 baths. Lovely, protected grounds just 2 minutes from Nassau Street. $44,500

COOL, COOL INSIDE AND OUT: Shady woods to walk in (nearly 4½ acres), a rushing trout stream for fishing and peaceful countryside all around. What could be a more heavenly setting for a well planned, solidly built, low upkeep one story house? 3 double bedrooms, large living-dining room with fireplace, super, eat-in kitchen, paneled study, 2½ baths. Centrally air-conditioned. Including a sub-dividable extra lot. $64,500

6 BEDROOMS AND 3 BATHS: make this attractively situated eastern Township house a real find for a large family. Its comfortably informal room arrangement consists of a 30' living-dining room with fireplace, well-equipped, eat-in kitchen and big playroom. Laundry, storeroom, two car attached garage. Wooded 3/4 acre with brook.
Priced at $66,000.

BEAUTIFUL HALF ACRE in the heart of the Western Borough. This was part of a larger lot which has been planted and tended by professional gardeners for years. Mature trees and shrubs. All utilities. Now reduced to $36,500
